BEST FOR: Birdwatchers in the eastern U.S. and Canada, up to the Rocky Mountains. Will satisfy serious birders but also a great starter book for young birders and backyard enthusiasts who want to identify what's at the feeder.

NG FIELD GUIDE TO THE BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA, 7TH ED.

With more than 2.75 million copies in print over its nearly four-decade lifetime, this perennial bestseller is considered essential by anyone who takes birdwatching seriously, beginner and veteran alike. It includes more than 1,000 species and among all publishers' North American bird field guides, it is the only one constantly updated to match current science. Filled with hand-painted illustrations from top nature artists, including details and annotations to point out key identification features, the 7th edition features 1,023 species with 3,500 illustrations.

9781426218354 | SC, 592 pages, $29.99

BEST FOR: If you're only going to use one bird field guide, this is it. Good for everyone from novices to experts, a frequently updated classic that all veteran birdwatchers know and depend on.

NG BIRDER'S LIFE LIST & JOURNAL

Every birder keeps a life list—an account of when and where each new species was sighted—and this blank book brings structure and beauty to the project. This guide is organized to match ornithological taxonomy and is enhanced with occasional text by renowned birder Noah Strycker and illustrations by expert bird artists. With an index to help navigate and organize one's findings, this journal makes keeping a life list all the more pleasant and convenient. A fitting complement to the best-selling National Geographic line of birding field guides, this is a perfect gift for birders young and old, new and experienced.

BEST FOR: A handsome record and keepsake for dedicated birders of the U.S. and Canada, organized by bird taxonomy, with blanks for dates, locations, and details chronicling a lifetime of species sighting.

NG BACKYARD GUIDE TO THE BIRDS OF NORTH AMERICA, 2ND ED.

This book is for casual birdwatchers young and old who want a quick and easy guide to the 150 birds most likely to visit their backyards and bird-feeders. Each bird is represented with custom art and range maps, identification tips, and interesting facts, plus there are many pages of ideas on how to design your living space, city or suburb, to attract the birds.

9781426220623 | SC, 256 pages, $21.99

BEST FOR: Casual birdwatchers of all ages, a good starting point. Especially for those with bird feeders who want to know more about their winged visitors.
