

INSPIRE AND INFORM WITH BOOKS FROM THE PHOTO ARK

National Geographic Photo Ark is award-winning wildlife photographer Joel Sartore's groundbreaking effort to document every animal species in human care before they disappear—and to inspire people to care about them while there's still time. To date, he has made portraits of more than 15,000 species.

From a tiny turtle poking out of its egg to sibling sloths cuddling one another, this adorable collection highlights youngsters in the animal kingdom. Fall in love with rambunctious cougar kittens and playful coyote pups, fluffy pandas and curious chimps, as you explore more than 120 photographs of the youngest animals in the remarkable Photo Ark.

Perfect for: national history museums, zoos, animal and nature lovers, fans of Joel Sartore and his Photo Ark project, conservationists, especially those concerned with endangered species
