Penguin Random House Canada is excited to announce a new imprint at Tundra Book Group, one of North America's leading children's publishers. Swift Water Books, led by acclaimed author David A. Robertson, will focus on publishing works by Indigenous writers and illustrators, with its first children's books slated for release in Canada and the U.S. in Spring 2026.

Swift Water Books features the work of emerging Indigenous talent alongside established and celebrated Indigenous voices. The imprint will publish books for young readers of all ages across a broad range of categories, including picture books, graphic novels, middle-grade and young adult fiction.

Some of the first titles to publish include Kim Spencer's YA novel, Here for a Good Time, and the late, iconic Richard Wagamese's posthumous picture book Canada, illustrated by Mangeshig Pawis-Steckley. Other writers and illustrators who have books forthcoming with Swift Water include Yolanda Bonnell, Cherie Dimaline and Wenzdae Dimaline-Manchester, Falen Johnson, Autumn Peltier, Waubgeshig Rice, Tasha Spillett, Kirk Van Brunt, Chelsea Vowel, Luke Swinson and August Swinson.

“This imprint is the realization of a belief that stories can change things for the better, especially when they are written with intention, with truth and with a focus on the real agents of change: youth,” says Editorial Director David A. Robertson. “With a growing interest in Indigenous storytelling, there is no better time for this imprint than right now.”

David A. Robertson is one of the most celebrated writers working today. He is the bestselling author of the ongoing Misewa Saga (which concludes its six-book series in 2025), a two-time winner of the Governor General's Literary Award (for On the Trapline and When We Were Alone) and the recipient of numerous other awards, including the Writers' Union of Canada's Freedom to Read Award. His books have also been shortlisted for the prestigious TD Canadian Children's Literature Award and the Ontario Library Association's Silver Birch Award, among others. In early 2025, David was announced as Canada's nomination for the 2026 Hans Christian Andersen Award. He is a member of Norway House Cree Nation and lives in Winnipeg.

At TUNDRA BOOK GROUP we are dedicated to the art of story. Our four imprints — Tundra, Swift Water Books, Puffin Canada and Penguin Teen Canada — are home to some of the world's most accomplished authors and illustrators as well as exciting new voices.

TUNDRA is a North American publisher and Canada's oldest children's book publisher. With an emphasis on illustrated books, Tundra publishes across all categories: board books, picture books, chapter books, graphic novels, illustrated nonfiction, middle-grade fiction and YA. We are the originating publisher of Ben Clanton's bestselling Narwhal and Jelly early graphic novel series and Xiran Jay Zhao's #1 New York Times bestselling YA novels Iron Widow and Heavenly Tyrant. We are home to some of the most talented authors and illustrators today, including Isabelle Arsenault, Julie Morstad, The Fan Brothers, Kyo Maclear, Rebecca Green, Doug Salati, X. Fang, Julie Flett, Marianna Coppo, David A. Robertson, Cherie Dimaline, Dena Seiferling, Cale Atkinson, Esmé Shapiro, Linda Bailey, Melanie Watt, Phoebe Wahl, Júlia Sardà, Shaun Tan and Susin Nielsen.

SWIFT WATER BOOKS is an Indigenous-led imprint envisioned and overseen by Nêhiyaw (Cree) author David A. Robertson. We are focused on celebrating Story and providing a platform for Indigenous writers and illustrators to share their truths. Swift Water publishes literature that educates, entertains, has a long-term vision of social change and finds a balance between complex histories and the beauty of Indigenous cultures across Turtle Island. We are exclusively a youth-oriented imprint with accurate and authentic representation, and we publish into a broad range of categories, including picture books, chapter books, graphic novels and middle-grade and young-adult novels.

PUFFIN CANADA is proud to publish Canadian and international authors on this iconic imprint, focusing on middle-grade fiction and classic Canadian literature. We are the home for such renowned authors as Jonathan Auxier, Kenneth Oppel, Yuval Noah Harari, Michael Morpurgo, Polly Horvath, Susan Juby and Kevin Sands.

PENGUIN TEEN CANADA focuses on publishing the best and most compelling YA stories. With its instantly recognizable logo, this imprint showcases many bestselling Canadian and international authors, such as Cherie Dimaline, Heather Smith, Nicola Yoon, Meg Rosoff, Christopher Paolini, Rachel Hartman and Elizabeth Wein.
